Directions: Feed Pro-Meat 100 to any dog requiring extra nutrition. Pro-Meat 100 is a non-fortified meat supplement, designed to be added to an already balanced canine diet for hard working dogs. Feed as needed, according to desired body condition and according to level of exercise.

Note. Pro-Meat 100 does not contain added vitamins or minerals other than what is normally found in these ingredients.

Product Profile:

High Quality Ingredients: Pro-Meat 100 contains only the finest meat and egg spray dried powders and meets stringent standards for nutrient profile, high digestibility, excellent palatability and low bacteria counts.

Digestible: Pro-Meat 100 is 100% quality meat and egg, which means it's much more digestible than grains typically used in commercial dog foods.

Safe: All of the ingredients in Pro-Meat 100 have been carefully spray dried, and meets industry standards for low bacteria counts. Pro-Meat 100 has a very low bacteria and pathogen risk and is much safer to handle than raw meat. For dog owners that are concerned about the safety of handling and feeding raw meat to their dogs, Pro-Meat 100 is an excellent alternative. Pro-Meat 100 does not contain beef products.

Easy To Handle: Pro-Meat 100 pellets are easy to feed. No more raw meat grinding, storage and mess. Feeds as easy as a kibble dog food.

Shelf Life: Keep Pro-Meat 100 packaging closed and dry for optimum shelf life. No refrigeration required.

Palatable: Pro-Meat 100's all meat and egg formula is very palatable for even the hardest working dogs.

Economical: Economical to feed compared to raw meat. Here are some comparative usage rates.
